

Welcome to the Waterloo County Quilters' Guild's
October 2023 Virtual Show and Share.

Thank you to these talented quilters who have shared their current projects.

This is a Smile Quilt that I started in the spring and finally finished at the end of September, after numerous glitches and delays. Inge may recognize some of the fabric; the remainder in the top is from my stash.

This is a 40" x 40" UFO that I finished just recently. It was from the class Modified Quilt As You Go by Daine Murtha. I used her suggestion for a pattern. It will be donated to Smile Quilts

Spring Picnic is the name of this free pattern by It's Only Fabric and Thread. Perhaps I should call it "Fall Feast" as I love all the bright colours from the Speckled Layer Cake by Ruby Star Society. I thought the pattern was well written and it went together easily. I added a border to make it a little larger, 62" x 74". Quilted by Claudia Schumm at Quilting by Design, New Hamburg.

This is my temperature quilt made with hexies. It represents the first year of my son's life from June 1981 - June 1982.

On my patio door.

On my son's front door.

This is a window curtain for my son's front door. It is a modern Pojagi (Korean) patchwork curtain with reversible seams and was designed by Elizabeth DeCroos. I love the stained glass effect achieved using this method with batik fabrics.

Our Hearts Will Go On

Featuring batiks by Northcott. Pattern from Fabric Addict. Thanks to Barbara Pye for helping me figure out the pattern and for doing a wonderful job quilting it. This one is 'sold'.

Our Log Cabin Mobile

Twenty years ago at the Joseph Schneider Haus, my daughter, Tara, and I had the opportunity to have a show together called Kindred Threads. A third of the works were Tara's, a third mine and the final third were our collaborative works. I have finally gained custody of this mobile! Tara created the glass centres and I applied the surrounding wonky reversible log cabin blocks and assembled them with fishing line. The blocks are approximately 5½" square. We are thrilled to be sharing it again.

Bag with a variation of machine stitches, combined with hand stitches

Craftsy has a class: Stupendous Stitching with Carol Ann Waugh.

This little bag (15 x 18 cm) is made with her technique. I didn't use many different stitches, but tried to use the same stitch with different lengths and widths.

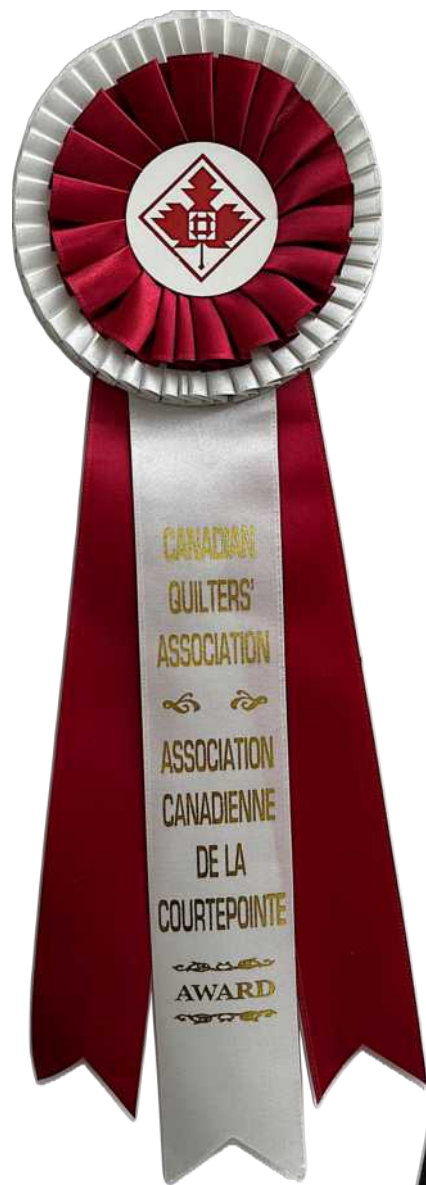

I enjoyed adding the hand-stitches, particularly to alter the machine stitches.

This quilt was a joint effort with Marg Sandiford as a 30th wedding anniversary gift for my sister and her husband. Marg was a bridesmaid in the wedding. It was very easy to select the colours for this quilt, as pink is one of my sister's favorite colours. The quilt was scaled down from the original king-sized Linking Hearts pattern designed by Mabel Brukholder for Log Cabin Quilt Shop.

Four Seasons

Wool on linen quilt based on the pattern Round the Garden by Wendy Williams. I reworked three of the quadrants creating a summer, winter, spring and fall theme. The quilt is all hand stitched with wool and embroidery. I learnt so many new embroidery stitches and utilized the instruction of Sue Spargo on many of the designs. Wool is such a forgiving medium to work and the beautiful bright colours always bring a pop to the quilt. The quilt did not require a lot of quilting as the work itself was the feature. A stipple background on most of the areas did the trick. The only difficult part of the job was that it is worked as a whole quilt and the size of the top could cause a few problems. To eliminate this issue I chose to divide the whole cloth into two sections right down the middle. Custom machine quilted by Susan Therrien.

Tahoe

In recent years, I had noticed and grown to admire Edyta Sitar – Laundry Basket Quilts patterns and really love the fabric collections. I was also starting to feel a little “bored” with half square triangle and flying geese, and began to think of how I could stretch and challenge my piecing/quilting skills. Edyta designed and made this ‘Tahoe’ quilt for her daughter’s wedding. When I saw it, I knew that it was the special quilt I wanted to make to honour my husband and my 40th anniversary in December. One problem – I had never made diamonds before and really didn’t know how to go about it – my quilting friends also did not know how to make diamonds – so after some research and YouTube, I set to work taking the beautiful fabric and piecing it into diamonds, all of which I found quite challenging and a real stretch for me. After 7 months, (taking a month off for Christmas), I was able to complete the quilt top and am very pleased with how the quilt turned out. Special thanks to Barbara Pye for the beautiful long arm quilting to complete the project.

Dinner Plate Dahlia

Foundation paper piecing is one of my favourite techniques. Every now and again, I enjoy completing a large project that relies on FPP. Quilted by Pat Donovan of Guelph, ON. The pattern is Dinner Plate Dahlia by Quiltworx.com 99" x 99"

Thank you, quilters for sharing your projects. We look forward to seeing what you are currently working on as you practice “social distancing”.

Continue to create, sew and quilt! It’s great therapy. Happy quilting everyone!
