SCRAPS OF WISDOM

President's Message: Caring in a Time of Concern

Who could have imagined a few months ago that our lives would change so dramatically, that we would be isolated at home, unable to see family members, and practising physical distancing even as we take walks or exchange a few brief words with neighbours? I hope, that amid all these negative aspects, you are also finding some positive experiences, perhaps neighbours offering to pick up groceries, connecting with family and friends on the phone or internet, and opportunities to use your time in meaningful ways. If we can keep ourselves motivated and positive, this is a great time to get into our sewing spaces and work on UFO's, Smile Quilts, PAL Quilts or perhaps begin sewing face masks as another community outreach program.

Our guild has been approached by two organizations – Community Living – Cambridge and K-W Rehabilitation, asking if guild members are interested in sewing home made face masks. Information about the requirements for each agency, where to deliver completed masks as well as patterns, were sent out in a separate email. We have provided home telephone numbers and addresses where these masks can be delivered, which is why the information was sent as an email rather than including all information in our regular newsletter and social media sites.

While we recognize that these masks are not substitutes for the required protective equipment, and there is much debate on quilting and sewing internet sites as to the usefulness of these masks, these two agencies have expressed an urgent need for a very large number of masks. These agencies acknowledge that these are home made masks and not up to the regulations, but they believe that these masks will provide some basic support for the staff in their agencies. If you decide to make these masks, I invite you to keep a tally, and share your numbers with me. As a guild, we would like to recognize and celebrate the number of masks that we are making to support the community. If you have any questions about this sewing opportunity, please contact me. While we also recognize that there are many patterns and suggestions for other face mask styles, these two agencies have requested masks to be made using the basic patterns that were included in the email.

Thank you for your continued support during this unprecedented time. We appreciate that so many of you voted on-line for our guild's selection for the CQA challenge and that you sent photos of your quilted items so they could be included in a virtual Show and Tell for March. We hope to be able to put together another virtual Show and Tell for April. The executive has also made the difficult decision to cancel all guild activities, including our regular guild meetings, workshops and Mannheim sewing days until further notice. With that in mind, this is a good time to continue working on sewing a table runner (or mini wall hanging) for the President's Challenge (which is still due in May) [continued on Pg.2]

The Waterloo County Quilters' Guild provides an opportunity for quilters to learn in a supportive, sharing, social environment. We encourage you to get the most out of your membership by becoming more deeply involved in the guild.

and / or to sew face masks using fabrics and supplies you have at home.

I would like to share with our guild members a non-guild, non-sewing opportunity. The agencies who have requested our assistance in sewing face masks are facing this need because they have just recently donated their protective equipment to the local hospitals who are in dire need of the N95 face masks. Amy Liu Bissett, a family member of one our guild members, with her direct connection to China, has been able to successfully source 10,000 Level II medical masks at cost. Here in KW, our local hospitals are running low on many medical supplies, especially masks. Our health care professionals need these masks to protect themselves from COVID-19. Many people can be asymptomatic while carrying the virus so if our nurses or doctors are not wearing masks, they are at high risk of contracting it. This supply of 10,000 masks has arrived and has been distributed to both Grand River and St. Mary's Hospitals. A Go Fund Me page was set up to help support the cost of these masks. It's exciting to share that this fund successfully raised the money to cover the costs. Quite an amazing reason to celebrate!

While we are unable to meet as a guild, we will periodically send out some quilt related news and updates in the upcoming weeks. In the meantime, on behalf of the executive, we hope you find time to slow down, turn to your quilting / sewing hobby and use it as time to take a break from the world and watch your hands do their work. Quilting, sewing, and creating are all useful and healing in anxious times like these.

Stay safe and healthy. Happy quilting! Inge Ford

How to make a Surgical Mask

What you will need:

- 9" x 6" piece of cotton (high density is best but regular is okay)
- 9" x 6" piece of flannel – for softness against the face
- 2 x 7" piece of flat elastic 1/8" width
- Thread

Directions:

- Put right sides of cotton and flannel pieces together
- Start at centre of bottom edge to the first corner, stop. Sew the end of one piece of elastic into the corner making sure that the elastic will be outside of the mask when you turn it right sides out. Make sure also that the elastic is firmly attached by doing a few stitches back and forth over it.
- Continue to sew up the side to attach the other end of the elastic as above
- Sew the top
- At the next corner, once again attach one end of an elastic piece.
- Sew down the other side attaching the other end of the piece of elastic to the last corner.
- Sew across the bottom making sure to leave approx. 1 ½ to 2" open so that you can turn the fabric right side out.
- Now go back and make 3 pin tucks or pleats on each side of the mask
- Sew around the entire mask again.

Contact Inge Ford and let her know how many masks you've made so we can celebrate our progress!

CQA Gateway to Adventure Member Guild Challenge 2020

In this very unorthodox time, WCQG was able to complete the challenge within the initially prescribed CQA/ACC timeline. The entries were brought to my house - yes, we kept our social distance, where I photographed and forwarded the pictures to Inge Ford who developed an online presentation and created a survey, using Survey Monkey for our membership. Kathy Bissett was instrumental in notifying the membership about the online survey via email and sending a friendly reminder to those who still needed to vote. Marg Sandiford has used the photos for this newsletter. (I hope I haven't forgotten anyone involved in the process.)

I remain in awe of the creativity, skill and ingenuity of our members. We had 5 guild members submit 9 fabulous entries to the contest: Bernice Barratt, Karen Cassidy, Marg Sandiford, Hilary Walsh and Maria Wirth.

Maria Wirth had the most votes for first place with 'Journey'. Hilary Walsh came in second with 'Follow Your Heart' and Marg Sandiford came in third with 'The Path Less Travelled'.

Thank you to our quilt artists who participated and everyone involved in making this a success.

Maria's quilt will be forwarded to CQA/ACC for inclusion in Quilt Canada 2020 in Edmonton.

At this time, I am so grateful for family, friends, neighbours and my quilting community for making the situation bearable.

Stay safe and healthy everyone, Jean McFarlane, Vice President

Waterloo County Quilters' Guild

Internet Resources for Quilters

Prepared by Inge Ford

One of my most recent interests has been to learn and develop my free motion quilting skills. For me, this felt like a formidable task. Fortunately, I was able to take a beginner "free motion quilting class" from our guild's own Barbara Pye. I left the class with new skills and more importantly an improved confidence that this was, in fact, possible with lots of practice and lots of doodling! Until it's safe to get out and take another class, I have been checking for internet sites that will continue to inspire and motivate me to practise this skill. Here are some of my favourite ones. These blogs or websites also contain lots of other useful information, so even if you're not into free motion quilting, the sites are worth visiting and exploring.

Lori Kennedy

Lori Kennedy is a well-known machine quilter and author from Minnesota. She has been quilting, doodling and designing free motion quilting motifs for more than 20 years. She regularly tests new products and techniques which she shares on her blog. She also has great classes on mybluprint (www.mybluprint.com). I have found her quilt designs and suggestions for beginners to be especially helpful. Sign up for her newsletter and find lots of information on her blog / website at <https://lorikennedyquilts.com>.

Christa Watson, Christa Quilts

Christa has been sharing her love of quilting for over 20 years, and in recent years has developed a passion for modern quilts and combined it with her love of machine quilting. She is the author of several machine quilting books, featuring free motion quilting. On her site and in her books, she shares her tried and tested methods for getting great results while having fun at the same time. She designs fabric for Benartex Fabrics and has a number of classes on mybluprint (www.mybluprint.com). On her blog, Christa provides free quilt-alongs, strategies and ideas for free motion quilting and much more. Check her out at <https://christaquilts.com/about/>

Leah Day

Leah Day is well known to many quilters, so while I have shared her site before, it's worth sharing again with the emphasis not only on her blog and newsletter, but especially for the resources and tutorials provided on her website related to free motion quilting. There are many tutorial videos where she teaches how to do free motion quilting on a small quilt sandwich, then a quilt, and sometimes on a long arm machine. For the new free motion or walking foot quilter or for those more experienced, this site has a wealth of information. Check it out at www.leahday.com.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED!

We are looking for four volunteers to join the executive.

1. Our Vice President, Jean McFarlane will be moving up to President in June, so we will need a new Vice President.
2. Jean Cloes is still working with our Treasurer, Andrea, but a replacement for our Assistant Treasurer needs to be found as soon as possible.
3. Both positions in the Library will be available. Kathy will be stepping down in June and Helene would like to finish in early fall.

If you have any questions regarding the details involved with these position, you can speak to the individuals mentioned above or any of our executive.

Modern Pojagi Workshop

March 4, 2020

Our third workshop of this guild year was held on March 4th and was lead by our February speaker, Elizabeth DeCroos. The workshop was enjoyed by all who attended and it was fun to see one of the completed projects, by Colleen Lapensee, (shown here on the left), in our March Virtual Show and Tell.

We're looking forward to seeing more completed projects in the coming months - whether virtually or in person when we are all able to gather together again. - Sandy Bussey, Programme Committee

Block of the Month

Granny's Choice Quilt Block 12 ½" Block

Choose a colour. Use a dark value and a medium value of your chosen colour. Use white or cream to compliment for the light value.

Black Fabric (Dark Value)

- 1 – 11" square cut on the diagonal twice – this will make 4 triangles – you will need only 2 of these triangles to make one block
- 2 – 2 ¼" x 8" rectangles
- 2 – 2 ¼" squares

Grey Fabric (Medium Value)

- 2 – 2 ¼" x 8" rectangles
- 2 – 2 ¼" squares

White/Cream Fabric (Light Value)

- 1 – 11" square cut on the diagonal twice – this will make 4 triangles – you will need only 2 of these triangles to make one block

Pieces cut and ready to be sewn for one 12 ½" block.

Making the Block

Sew the black 2 ¼" squares to one end of the grey rectangles and sew the grey 2 ¼" squares to one end of the black rectangles. Press the seam towards the black fabric in each unit.

Pair up the black rectangle/grey square unit with the black triangle. Place the grey square at the right angle corner of the black triangle with RS together. Sew down the long side. Press seam towards black triangle. Make two.

Pair up the grey rectangle/black square unit with the white triangle. Place the black square at the right angle corner of the white triangle with RS together. Sew down the long side. Press the seam towards the grey rectangle. Make two.

Note: the rectangle pieces will be longer than needed and will be trimmed off at the end.

Match up a black triangle unit with a white triangle unit. Sew down the side with the rectangles and squares units. Make two. Press the seam towards the rectangle/triangle unit.

Match up the two units just made taking care to match the seams. Pin as the edges are on the bias and can stretch out of shape very easily. Pin the two units together. Sew together and press the seam in either direction.

Block will be larger than needed with the rectangles hanging over the corners. Square up the block to 12 1/2". It will be a bit larger so will need to be trimmed.

For a more detailed step by step tutorial please go to <https://quiltsbyjen.ca/grannys-choice-quilt-block/>
