

Welcome to the Waterloo County Quilters' Guild's
November 2020 Virtual Show and Share

Thank you to these talented quilters who have shared their current projects.

This quilt, BULLSEYE, was created from the leftover fabric from WALKABOUT. This twin-sized quilt has an explosion of colourful batiks. I have shown the back to reveal the beautiful quilting of Barb Pye.

Pat Kruska

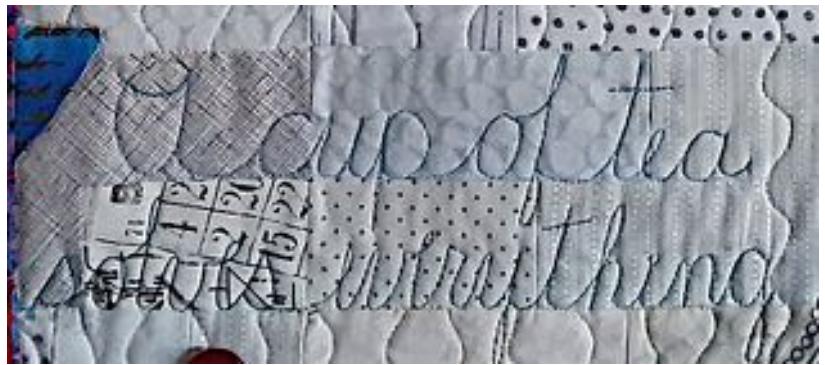

The back of Pat's quilt did not make it into the October Show & Tell.

Quilt made with African prints from Flower Stalls pattern (altered slightly). Expertly quilted by Barb Pye.

Catharine Pryor

This is my Tea Pot Party. I based it on a pattern by Laura Heine, but adapted my teapots to make them more Retro. I used a neutral background made from leftover strips from another quilt. (It seems I have a bad habit of getting carried away while cutting.) I added buttons for more colour and some script," A cup of tea solves everything. It measures 49" x 42" and hangs in our dinette.

Dorothy Holdenmeyer

I have been making market bags, using fabric on hand and recycled fabrics. I've also been playing with fabrics and getting a lot of inspiration from Pinterest. The fun projects were piling up so I made them into bag fronts, using scrap therapy on the backs. Guess I'll be making lots of bags yet!

Dorothy Holdenmeyer

After sewing a number of large quilts, I focused on 2 small quilts for the next WCQG show probably for the small quilt draw.

Bonnie Murdoch

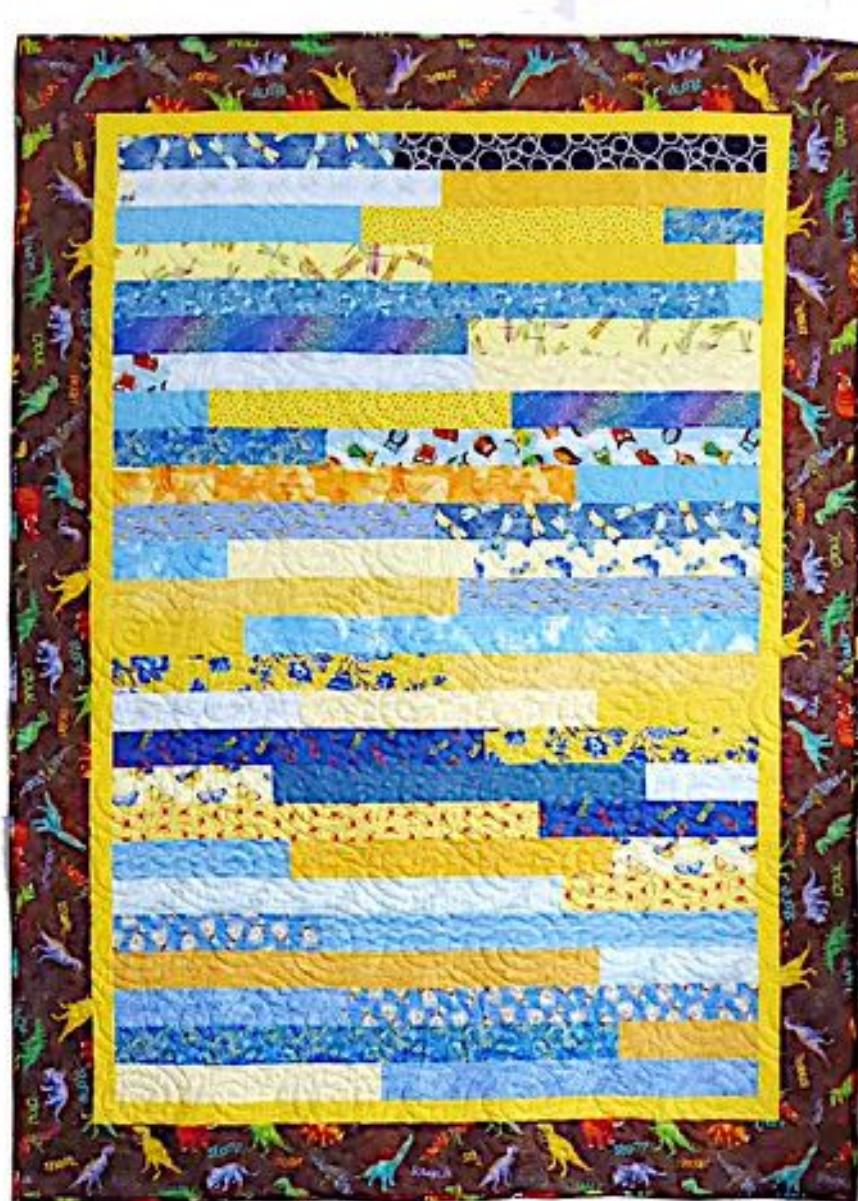

This quilt is a bit larger made for the new baby that is making his/her appearance later this month.

Bonnie Murdoch

Calvin's Summer Quilt

In June my grandson asked for a cooler quilt since the I Spy quilt, he got for Xmas was too hot (it had a fleece backing). He wanted a blue and yellow quilt. He chose all of the fabrics himself from my stash as well as the dinosaur border. I decided that a jelly roll race quilt would be the quickest for me to do.

Tiiu Chang-Kue

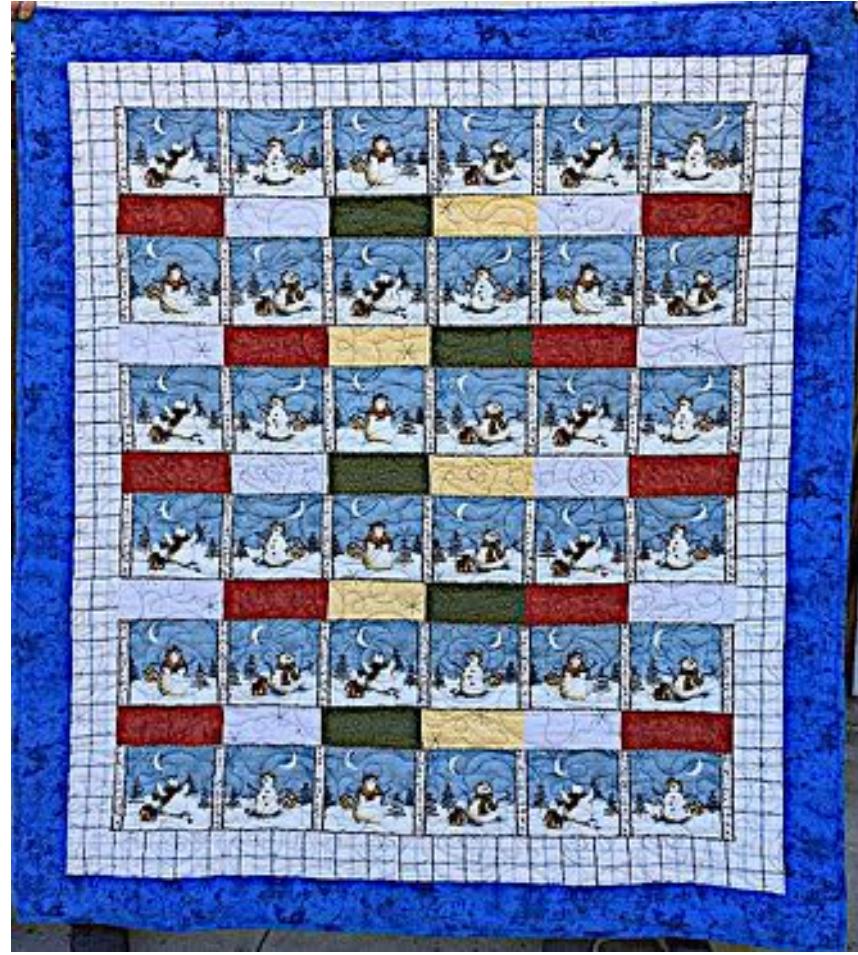

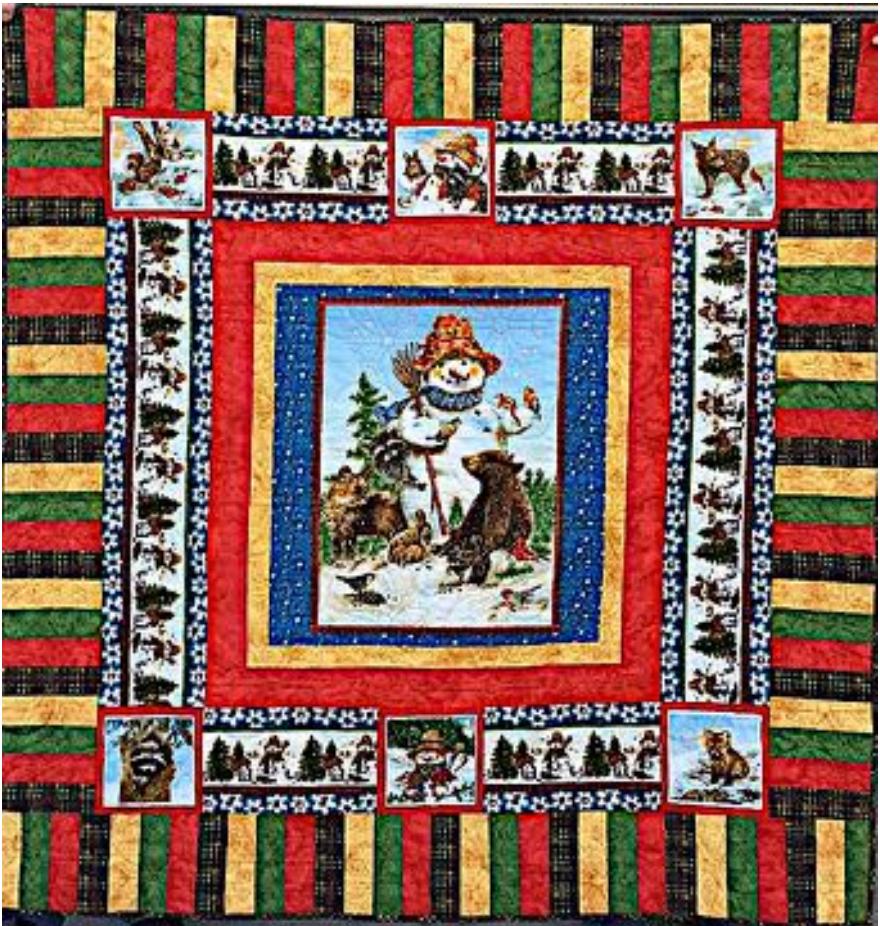

These 3 tops are made with cut-off scraps I had from when I used to make 6-sided placemats for a store years ago. I used the batting and backing provided by the guild for these Smile quilts.

Kathryn Helwig

I made 8 “chenille” flannelette blankets this week, to wrap around Teddy bears. :o)

Emily Hunsberger

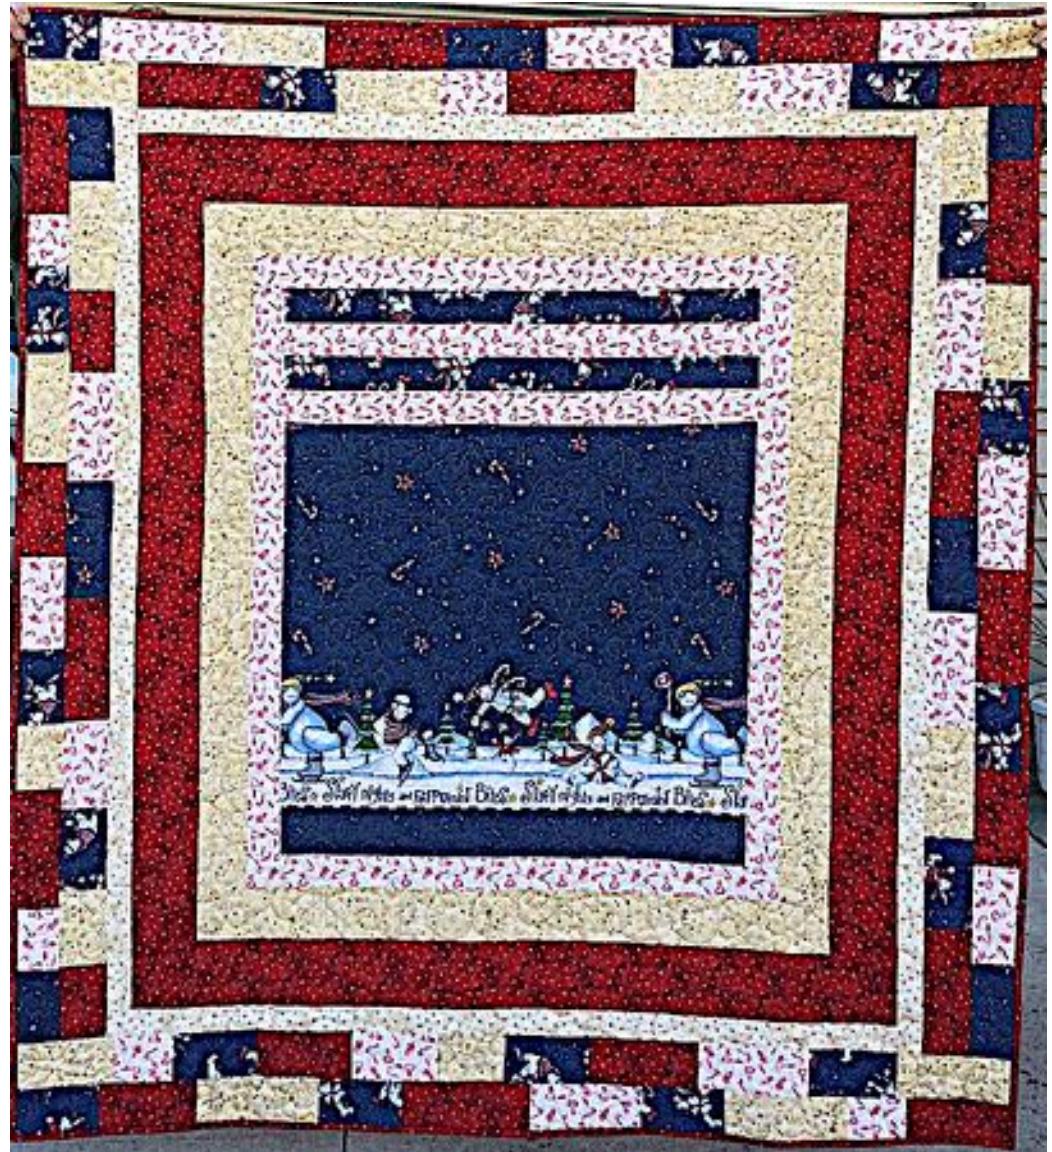

These two quilts and the following one were made almost totally from my stash. All have flannel backs for that special cuddle factor. The young recipients live in BC - a sister and brother in Prince George and their cousin in Victoria.

Elizabeth King

Elizabeth King

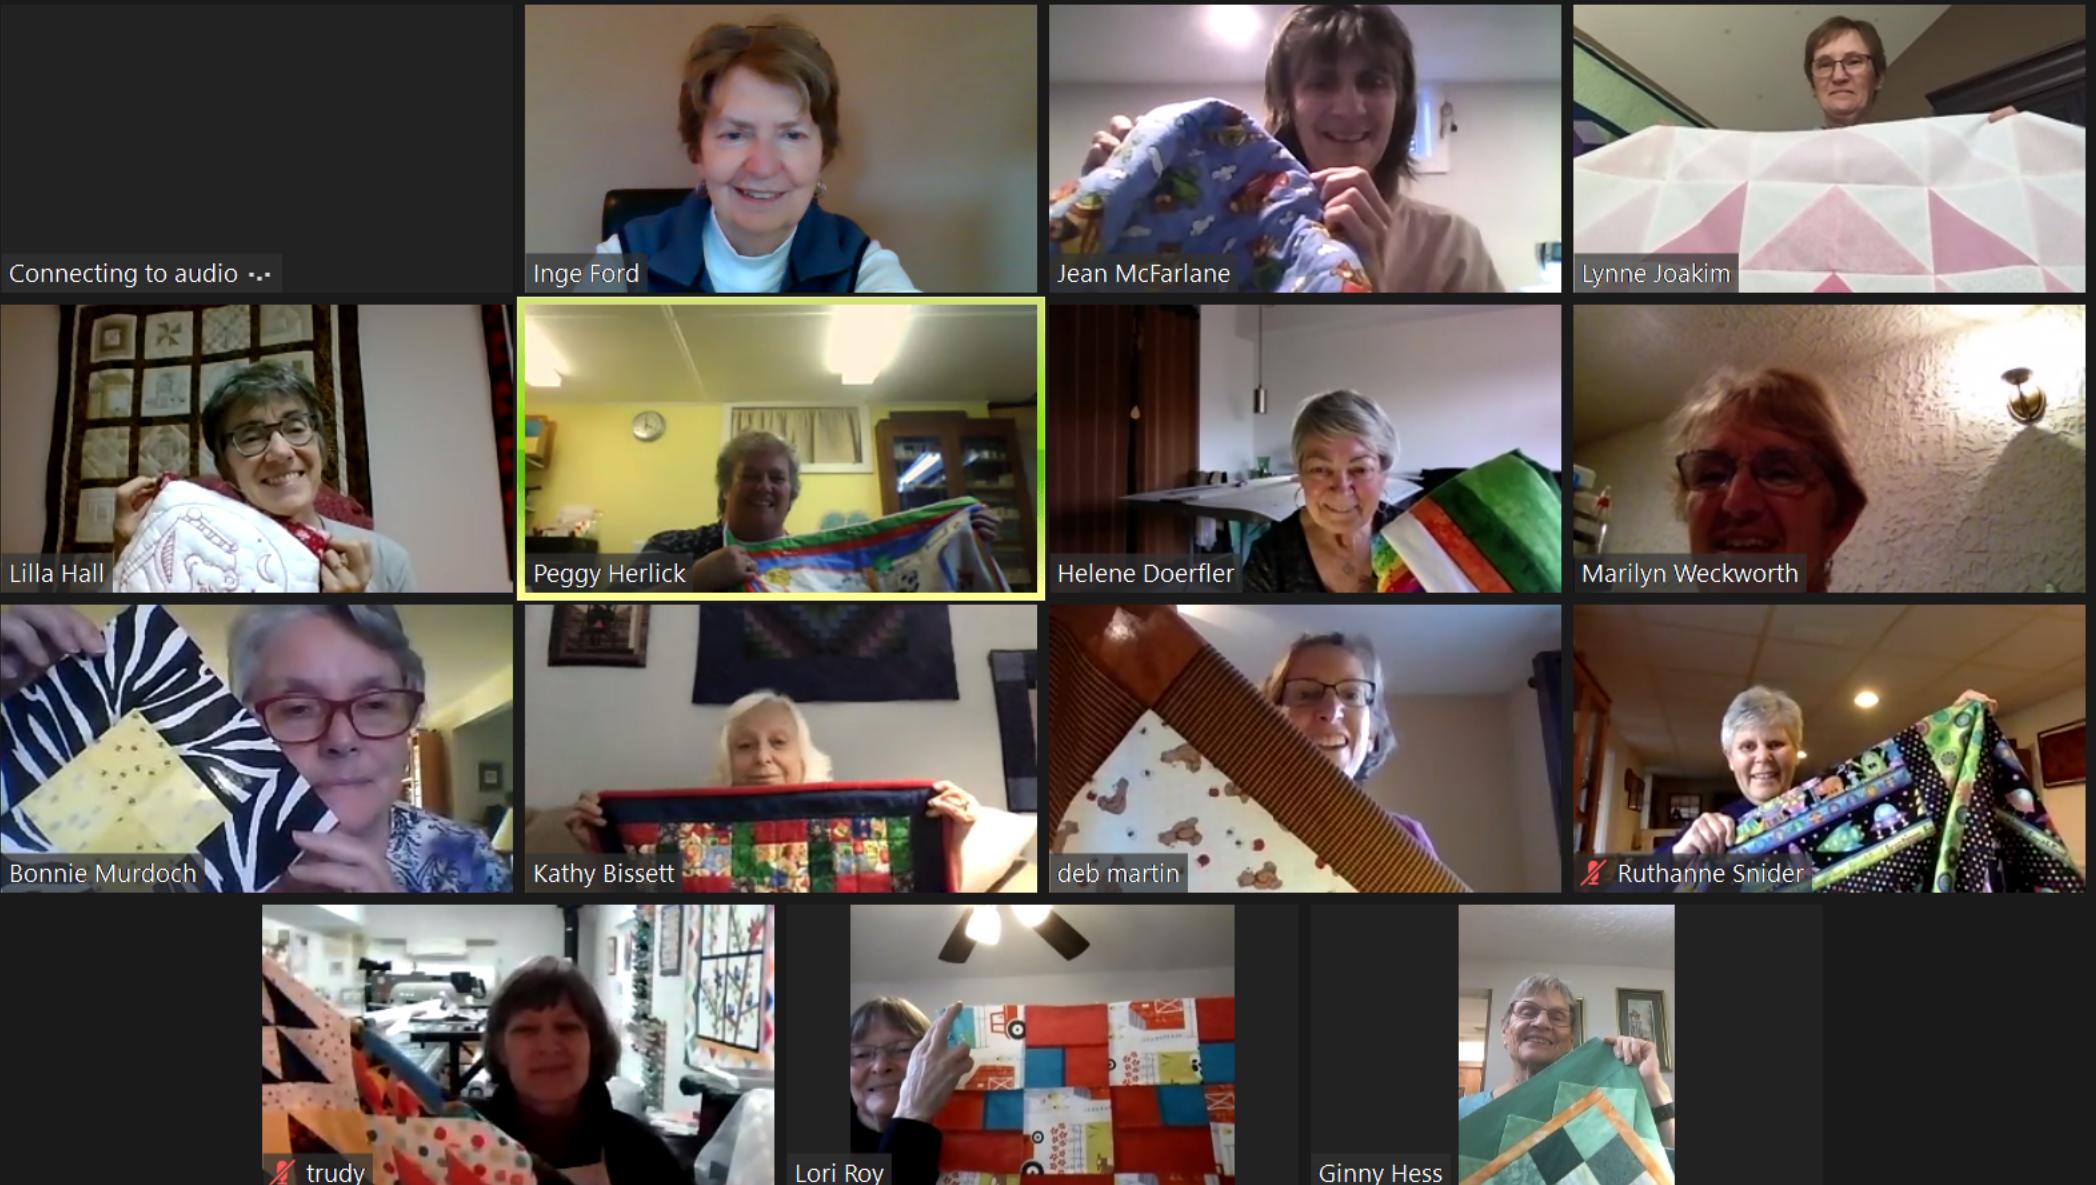

Turn off Original Sound

View

Virtual Smile Quilt Bee Day

Mute

Stop Video

Security

15 Participants

Polls

1 Chat

Share Screen

Record

Breakout Rooms

Reactions

End

Here is pic of my teddy bear quilt. I sewed two of these at the Virtual Smile Quilt Bee. I also started another quilt that will be finished as a smile quilt.

Debra Martin

Three cuddle quilts with animals waiting for their new friends.

Kathy Bissett

Small for teddy bears.

Lilla Hall

Scrappy Log Cabin - using up 2" strips.

Lilla Hall

July shop hop with extra UFO blocks.

Lilla Hall

Ode to Viikki - to be given as a smile quilt.

Lilla Hall

City Scapes using up a panel - idea and pattern came from the quilt shop, Cherished Pieces.

Lilla Hall

Some years ago, I cut a bunch of fabrics for a winding ways quilt. It wasn't going the way I pictured it, and I used some for another quilt. The rest went into the UFO box. This past summer, I pulled out the best colour choices for this piece. They reminded me of butterflies, but it was tricky to get the tails in the right spots! It's quilted with two layers of wool batting for a bit of puff.

Ilene Atkins

.This is a panel kitty Mitchell gave me to complete for the smile outreach project. It's my first attempt at free motion quilting. Still have lots to learn.

Jean McFarlane

Additional Quilts for Tiny Houses

Pamela Clarkson

Judy Pearce

Judy Siegner

Thank you, quilters for sharing your projects. We look forward to seeing what you are currently working on as you practice “social distancing”.

Continue to create, sew and quilt! It's great therapy. Happy quilting everyone!