

Welcome to the Waterloo County Quilters' Guild's Virtual Show and Tell for our March 2020 cancelled Guild Meeting.

Thank you to these talented quilters who have shared their current projects.

Bernice Gammy "Betty Dietrich had started this sweet little quilt and I machine quilted it and finished it. It will be a Smile Quilt."

Several weeks ago, a friend, Judy, gave me this music fabric. I was so excited about it because music is an upbeat in my life.

I have made 3 quilt tops from the fabric and a smile quilt.

Recently, the University of Waterloo contacted Caring Connections and asked if we would make quilts for students who need comfort and caring. These students have received counselling from the University Counselling Service.

One of the quilts will go there from Caring Connections, Waterloo County Quilt Guild. Another one or two might go to our Hospices....depending on the decision of our group.

Dance to the music, Marilyn Hollinger

T-shirt quilt of hockey jerseys....

This is my current project... as you can see by the photo I'm about half done at this point. Lots of work left to go. My lady provided the hockey jerseys and asked that the mortar fabric that holds them all together be shades of red. She also wants a red flannelette backing.. As you can see his name is "Blanchette" and he's played for a variety of teams. Can you find the 9 patch? or the pinwheel? I'm getting well known as a person who makes T-shirt quilts and does repairs. Hopefully soon I can make some of the legacy quilts I have planned. I know... I know all I have to do is say "no" but somedays that's so hard to do. Stay safe, wash your hands and be healthy. Looking forward to our next meeting,
CathyPotvin

Project Linus received a request for a queen sized quilt that would be used by the therapists who engage with moms who suffer from post-partem depression. They wanted a quilt that the babies could lie on during the sessions. My daughter's mother-in-law gifted me the flowers and leaves, with the edges already turned under to be appliqued. Who knew I had enough yellow toned fabric in my stash to make an 80 x 80 quilt using the disappearing nine patch technique?! I think I'll trapunto the flowers with an extra layer of batting before I free-motion quilt it. I've promised to finish it by the end of March, so I'd better get quilting! - Marg Sandiford

This one was a kit I bought a few years ago from Creative Sisters. I gave it to my dad for his birthday. - Colleen Lapensee

This one is the class I took on the 4th of March. I really enjoyed it. Pojagi.-
Colleen Lapensee

Back of quit

This one was my first quilt and a UFO front and back (next picture). Finally finished it. Lots of sewing lately. - Colleen Lapensee

Inferno Down Under

Here is a quilt I just finished. I felt so bad about the Australian bush fires that I based this on a photo I saw of a kookaburra looking at the desolate landscape. It is my own design and is 32 by 43 inches wide. I've called it 'Inferno Down Under'

Carol Ross Williamson

This is a queen size quilt I made when i took Jackie Syer's workshop in April 2017 it is called X an O String Quilt by Cathy Jurchuk

This is a queen size quilt . I believe the pattern is called Diamonds are Forever, In a book called String Quilt Revival by Virginia Baker & Barbra Sanders. I machine stitched this top & it still needs to be quilted. Many of the pieces of fabric I obtained from our donated stash in the containers at the meetings. Thank you to all who donated!

Cathy Jurchuk
Diamonds are forever

An original pattern, by
Cathy Jurchuk

This quilt was made by my 8 year old grand daughter. It is the first quilt she made. She machine quilted it herself as well. She designed it herself & made it with instructions from me, her grand mother, Cathy Jurchuk

"I just finished the Trendtex quilt challenge (above). The pattern is based on a poster by the Ukraine artist Eugene Verlen. Permission was granted."
Machine applique, machine quilted by Karen Cassidy

I did two quilts one with the required Trendtex 5 challenge fabrics and (this one) the second quilt with fabrics of my own choosing and personal use.

This one is "Line Dance" a pattern by Karen Jordan of Jordan Fabrics. The pattern was modified slightly and pieced by Dianne Robertson and Marg Sandiford. It was machine quilted by Marg Sandiford. It has been donated to the Mennonite Relief Sale Quilt Auction that will hopefully take place at the end of May.

This is my first Show & Tell.

This table runner (still to be quilted) is 26" X 40" from a panel that I picked up at a guild meeting for the President's Challenge "to brighten someone's day". It will be donated to the new hospice.

With more quilting under my belt I might handle the corner stones differently. I still have time to change them. 😊 Barb Mockford

"I hope I will have this quilted by next month. 'Chopsticks' by Jaybird Quilts is fairly fast. This is done with a combination of batiks and regular cottons - baby size (approximately 35 x 48)."
Carol McLaren

"I have been spending my time piecing this kaleidoscope. It has been a challenge but lots of fun."

"I have very little fabric left but here is a picture. I think I had three or four metres. I made eight 12 inch blocks, eight 10 inch, sixteen 6 inch and eight 4 inch. I did not want to have any left over!!!!"

Fabia Joyce

It is called 'origami bag' and you make it from two squares of contrasting fabrics. It can be any size, for mine I used two squares of 40 cm (16").

It has 4 outside pockets, but you can also choose to reverse this and have them on the inside. I put my USB-charger inside the bag and put the different cables and earphone in the outside pockets. But you can also use it for make-up, jewelry or quilting...

After you have made one, you likely want to make more.

There is a very good instruction on Youtube: <https://youtu.be/pSGhqZrE2-s>

Gerda Pauwelussen

Jean Carberry - "This hexagon quilt is new on my design wall and I just sewed the top row an hour ago. The Fons and Porter Hexagons ruler was used, thanks to Quilters Nine Patch when I won a draw at their store. The half hexagons were cut from my 2.5 inch guild's strip exchange fabrics from 2013-2014.

These are 3 table runners that need to be machine quilted for the May meeting. With a full quilt in behind that also needs to be quilted.

from left to right, "White Star" runner is from Little Charmers II pattern from Heather Mulder Peterson, published by Anka's Treasures, pattern designed for 6" squares. "Gold Star Log Cabin" runner, adapted from Serendipity quilt pattern, Cardinal Street pattern by Pix Martin. This pattern came with a 2003 Spring Shop Hop wallhanging pattern designed by Pix. Brown Squares runner, adapted from Four Square Lap Quilt from a guild library book called 'Cozy Modern Quilts' by Kim Schaefer. These runner were made form fabric left over from other projects. - Jean Carberry

Thank you, quilters for sharing your projects. We look forward to seeing what you are currently working on as you practice “social distancing”.

We may ask you to send photos of your work for our meeting in April, should we need to cancel our “in-person” meeting.

Continue to create, sew and quilt! It’s great therapy. Happy quilting everyone!

Think of it as a power tool with thread...

